

WHAT'S THE REAL STORY ON VACCINES?

When we have children, we all hear a lot about vaccines and vaccine safety. It's critical for your child's health that you know the important facts. The bottom line is that vaccines preserve life and livelihood; the science is clear on that.

DO WE REALLY NEED VACCINES?

ABSOLUTELY! It's a fact that vaccines save lives on an individual and massive scale.

And they are significantly reducing many of today's most worrisome diseases.

Since 1995, when the varicella shot was approved for routine use, chickenpox-related deaths have diminished

97%

(Yet some families still try to get chickenpox "naturally" at pox parties.)
